

By Seiichi Motohashi

BEFORE & AFTER 3.11

An Exhibition by Seiichi Motohashi
& Koji Suzuki

Free

7/18-7/22

9:30-17:00 (7/22-15:30)

Tsukuba Museum of Art

By Koji Suzuki

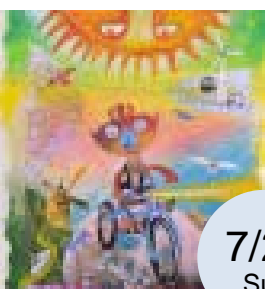

Seiichi Motohashi, photographer and film director known for his movies about the people living in the area affected by the Chernobyl nuclear disaster, and Koji Suzuki, picture book author and illustrator acclaimed for his striking use of color and composition – two very different artists who have been collaborating since 3.11. Through this multifaceted event they consider their hopes for the future post-3.11.

■ Kids Workshop with Koji-san

Time: 10:00-

Fee: 500yen (reservation necessary)

Make a mask and wear it on parade!!

7/22
Sun

7/1
|
7/22

■ Exhibition "No more Atomic Energy"

@ Various cafes, galleries, and shops around Tsukuba

See HP for details.

Screening and Talk @Tsukuba Capio

Seiichi MOTOHASHI, Movie director and photographer

Motohashi has been photographing and filming in Chernobyl and affected area since 1991, and has won awards from the Japan Association of Photography. He has also won many awards for his movies "Nadja's Village" and "Alexei and the Spring".

Nadja's Village

Language: Russian,
with Japanese subtitles

6/30
Sat

Open 18:30, Start 19:00

Tickets:

Advance: 1,200yen

On the day: 1,400yen

(Web site only)

University Students: 800yen

Disabilities: 800yen

Schoolchildren: 500yen

Both movies: 2,200yen

7/22
Sun

Alexei and the Spring

Language: Russian,
with Japanese subtitles

"Nadja's Village" is about a girl and her family in a Belarus village near Chernobyl devastated by radioactive pollution, where only 6 families remain. Through the lives of these strong and spirited people, deeply rooted in a natural world that is as beautiful as it is harsh, we learn what true wealth is.

In the village of Budische, Belarus, everything from the school ruins, fields, and woods to wild mushrooms is tested for radiation levels – but not the local spring. "Why? Because this water is 100 years old," the villagers say proudly. During these past 100 years, what kind of wealth have we been seeking? This gushing spring, proof that Earth is the water planet, is a tranquil reminder of the true nature of wealth.

Live Painting to Music

@ Tsukuba Capio

Koji SUZUKI, Picture book author and illustrator

Suzuki has won much acclaim and many awards for his striking use of color and composition in his books, movie and theater posters, stage sets and costumes, and murals.

His live painting will be set to the dynamic music and dance of Shibusa Chibizu (small combo style of Shibusashirazu) with guest musicians Naohiro and Tabito.

Shibusashirazu

7/19
Thu

Suzuki Koji + Shibusa Chibizu Theater

Guest:
Naohiro
Kawashita

Guest:
Tabito
Nanao

Open 18:30, Start 19:00

Tickets:

Advance: 3,500yen

On the day: 3,800yen

University Students: 3,000yen (Web site only)

Disabilities: 3,000yen (Web site only)

Schoolchildren: 2,000yen (Web site only)

Web site only

Special ticket: 5,000yen

Two movies

+

Suzuki Koji + ShibusaChibizu Theater

Tsukuba Museum of Art

Next to Tsukuba Public Library,
2-8 Azuma, Tsukuba

Capio Tsukuba

1-10-1 Takezono,
Tsukuba

Inquiry: nobu.jp@nifty.com

<http://before-after3-11.jimdo.com>

BEFORE & AFTER 3.11